

Editor Aubry Bracco: Letter to the editor — Fireworks in the neighborhood: <http://t.co/7Mofk8w>. —Tweeted 2 hours ago

 Like 2K  Get the Patch Newsletter

Arts

Richard Flynn: 'Running Down the Road of Life with Shoelaces Untied'

Richard Flynn will be showing his work with artist Greg Orfanos this July.
By Aubry Bracco | Email the author | July 2, 2011 Print 2 Comments

 Recommend  Send  Diane Wolf and 37 others recommend this.  +1  0  Email  Tweet

You might know him as "the Hammer" or maybe, more recently, "the Wrench."

Perhaps you don't know him by one of his monikers, but maybe you've seen his work or spotted him in a local coffee shop. You might recognize him as that guy you've seen who can create entire worlds in a Moleskine notebook with a Sharpie. Or, maybe you know him as the friendly downtown regular with a propensity to keep miniature rubber chickens in his pocket and hand them out to friends.

This is Salem-based artist Richard Flynn.

"I'm just running down the road of life with my shoelaces untied like everyone else," he says. "I'm just trying to make sense of the world, and I'm trying not to slip on those banana peels along the way. That's so cheesy...Cheez Whizzy," he says.

"Cheez Whizzy" or not, Rich Flynn dances to the beat of his own drummer (we're sure he has a much better unclined cliché to describe his way of being, but we'll leave that up to him).

You'll have a chance to catch Rich and his work this month at the Gulu Gulu Cafe, where his works will be shown together with his friend, artist Greg Orfanos.

An official opening is scheduled for July 14 at 7 p.m., but Rich and Greg will be hanging their work beginning tomorrow (Sunday, July 3).

Rich and Greg do completely different work, but it works, Rich says, because "we're two weird minds. We're two kindred spirits. Greg's on his own planet; I'm on my own little planet, but we're both in the same solar system of goofiness."

Lately, Rich said he's been taking his work "a little more seriously," and he's interested in doing more shows, but he wants to keep an intimate feel when he shares his work.

Part of Rich's exploration and development of his work involves working alongside others — creations from Rich's friends make appearances in his Moleskine palettes (which came out during our interview) and these moments of sharing art are paramount to his own artistic process.

"It's a language," Rich said of art. "It really goes back to primitive man drawing in a cave. It's like dance or music."

Rich said he hopes to be like a big "vortexual" sponge, adding that he very much enjoys the support of the community.

"People have been so wonderful to me," he explains.

Beyond people and collaboration, working with a variety of material is the spice of Rich's work.

Those who come to his show will see work in different forms, and though the sleek mark of the Sharpie will most likely make an appearance, ripped up receipts, crayons, glitter and old ticket stubs will probably make their own debuts too.

"As an artist you've got to be [open to variety]," Rich said. "You've got to use every crayon in the box. In music and dance, you can't just do the ChaCha all the time, you've got to do the Tango or the Funky Monkey."

Sponsored By

 Click for tickets!
Rachel Axler's SMUDGE
June 16 - July 9
90 Lafayette Street, Salem • 978-790-8546

 Tell Your Neighbors About Patch

Burke's Tumbling Academy

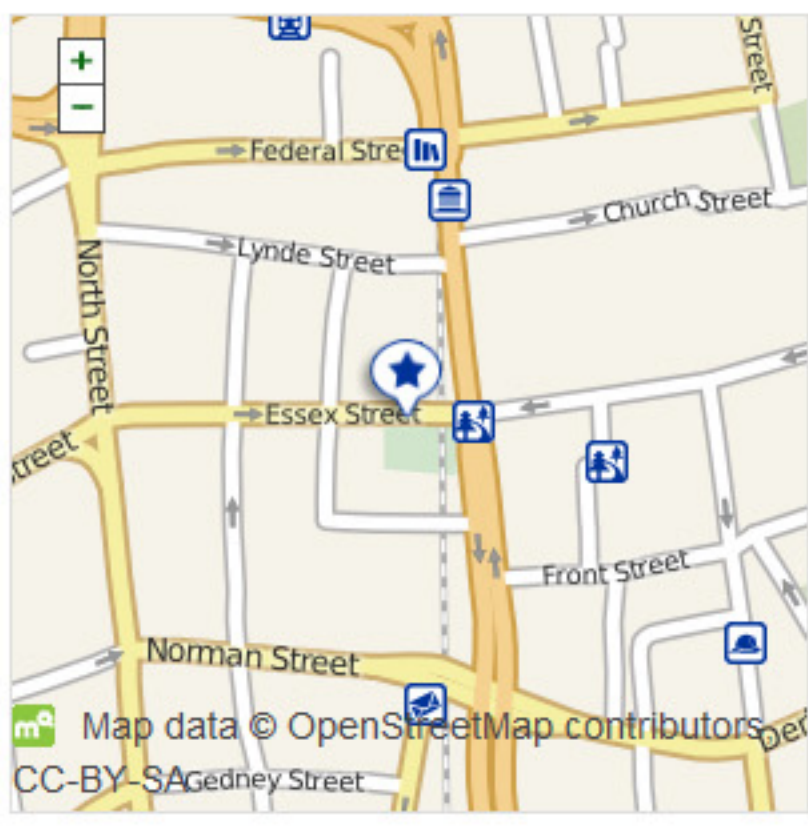

An Experience You'll FLIP Over. Send Your Kids to the Mat this Summer
facebook.com/ITumble

Power Plant Closing? What Next?

COMING SOON:
Seaside Park
Oceanfront Condos
Boardwalk
Marina & Cruise Ship Terminal
200 individual homesites

FIND OUT MORE

IN THIS ARTICLE

 Gulu-Gulu Cafe
247 Essex St, Salem, MA

SEE MORE ON PATCH

- Mike's Museum Set to Open
- New Public Arts Initiative Coming to Salem
- [Salem Boys and Girls Club Gets Fishy \[Image Gallery\]](#)
- IMAGE GALLERY: The Making of Ceramic Art
- Poetry Festival Starts Today

MOST POPULAR ARTICLES

- Mom Leaves Kids Unattended in Market Basket Parking Lot
- 5 Things You Can't Do in Salem
- Salem Police Monitoring and Fining Loud Motorcycles
- Salem Discusses Power Plant Site's Future
- Letter to the Editor: No Fireworks, Please

MSTC at Eastern Sports Achieve Fitness, Health & Balance. mstcmarblehead.com	Susan MacFarlane Licensed Massage Therapist. Patchers Save $15 on First Massage! susanmacfarlane.com
---	---

Follow us:    